The Maryville chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution will hold a flower show sometime during the month of June next year, according to tentative plans announced today. The time and place of the flower show will be designated later. in doing this the members of the chapter hope that the general public will co-operate with them to make this an annual affair. This is the first event of the kind to be planned for Maryville.

All varieties of flowers will be entered, annuals, perennials, single specimens, bouquets, combination of bouquets, boutonnieres, table centerpieces of flowers. Kansas City held its eighth annual flower show in June this year with Mrs. Massey Holmes as president. The Maryville women hope to bring Mrs. Holmes here to judge the exhibits next year.

Prizes will be given for the best specimens in all of the varieties, as well as in the other classes. The committee in charge feels that all lovers of flowers will take a keen interest in this event. The D. A. R. hopes that it will create an interest to beautify and cultivate more attractive lawns and gardens in Maryville.

The committee has submitted a suggested list of perennial seeds to plant during this month of August so they may be started and rooted before winter. The following is the list.

Canterbury bells, old fashioned pinks, hardy lockspur, gaillardia grandiflora, baby's breath, mallow, hollyhocks, maltese cross, perennial phlox, perennial peas, oriental poppies, (do not bloom the first year), hardy scabios, (blooms second year), stokesia, (cornflower aster, blooms well first year), fever few.

M. Eek, Mrs. C. T. Bell, Mrs. Fred Harvey, Mrs. D. J. Thomas, Mrs. Forrest Gillam, Mrs. Edward Gray, Mrs. Dale Bellows, Mrs. C. C. Corwin and Mrs. J. F. Montgomery.

WILL HAVE LARGE NUMBER AT FAIR

NODAWAY COUNTY WILL BE WELL REPRESENTED AT SEDALIA

WON CUP LAST YEAR

Offered By Missouri Ruralist For Largest County Attendance,, Distance Considered

Nodaway County will be well represented at the State Fair at Sedalia which opens August 18 and will close August 25.

Nodaway County last year won the Missouri Ruralist cup for the largest attendance when distance was considered. In order to retain the cup, it will be necessary for the county to win the attendance contest this year. When any one county wins two years in succession, then that county will keep the cup.

C. D. Bellows of this city is president of grand stand. Harve England, chief of police, and Leo Atherton, deputy sheriff, will be on the police force. A number of Maryville and Nodaway County men are to be ticket takers. A number of the Maryville men will leave for Sedalia Friday.

Bellows Bros., will have two carloads of Shorthorns on exhibit at the fair. J. H. Tapp and F. M. Townsend will show some of their fine horses, and Miss Frona B. Stephenson has entered a White Pekin Duck and a White Pekin Drake in the poultry show at the fair.

A dispatch from Sedalia today says: With concessionaries arriving daily and with a large crew at work getting the grounds in shape for the big opening next Saturday, the State Grounds here are assuming an appearance of bustle and activity that is a proper preliminary to the approaching eight day festival, which promises to be the biggest in the history of the exposition.

The crew at work cutting the grass on the grounds are nearing the completion of their work, and the fair reservation is looking more like a well kept park every day. Other men are bringing out the park benches from storage under the grandstand and are placing them at proper points around the grounds.

Each day business and sight-seeing bring more people to the grounds. The street car company is now using two extra cars on the fair grounds line to accomodate the ever growing crowd of visitors and workers.

Exhibit material arrives on each train, and more and more race horses are appearing on the track for exercise. Stands and booths are appearing in all parts of the reservation.

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce has made preparations for the reception of a record crowd. Nearly two thousand rooms have been listed ready for fair vacationists to rent.

Nab Bank Bandits, Find $10,000 Loot

Robbers of Redding, Iowa, Take to Field When Car Breaks Down

New Hampton, Mo., Aug. 14—Two of the five Redding, Iowa, bank bandits who got away with $2,000 in currency and nearly $3,000 in Liberty bonds after cracking the vault, there early Monday morning, were captured in a cornfield one mile from here Monday afternoon. A posse of men from the surrounding country cornered the two men and forced them to surrender. They gave themselves up peaceably. None of the money was recovered with the captured men, but $10,000 in Liberty bonds and non-negotiable personal notes were found near New Hampton shortly after daylight today.

The other three men have not been apprehended, but Redding authorities have information to the effect that two men were seen to board a northbound Burlington freight train early this morning. One of the men carried a satchel. The fifth man has not been accounted for.

The car in which the men left Redding broke down near here and the band evidently split, two of them remaining in a nearby cornfield. Two sawed-off shotguns were found in the car, and each of the captured men carried a revolver. GASOLINE PRICE IS CUT TO 16.2 CENTS

NEW RATE EFFECTIVE AT LOCAL STATIONS TODAY

REDUCTION IS GENERAL

Chicago Office Of Standard Oil Co. Issues Statement Last Night—Affects Eleven States

Managers of the three filling stations in Maryville received word early this morning that a new price of 16.2 cents per gallon on gasoline would be effective immediately. This is a 6.6 cent cut, the former price being 22.8 cents.

No cause for the drastic cut was given in any of the messages received this morning. However, one of the managers of the local stations said that the market was being flooded with the product and the threatened investigation by the government and state caused the sudden drop in price.

F. W. Baker, local agent of the Standard Oil Co., received word at 1 o'clock this morning from the St. Joseph office announcing the cut which is general in the Middle West. The price at the tank wagon is fixed at 14.2 cents per gallon.

Jefferson City, Aug. 14—Sixteen cent gasoline leaves a profit for the retailer and is not injurious to the independent companies, Attorney-General Jesse W. Barrett of Missouri declared in a statement today.

"The governor of South Dakota has taken similar action to that of the auto owners of Kansas City some time ago," he said.

"They organized co-operative associations for purchasing gasoline in tank car lots at Tulsa, which started the price war and brought gasoline down to 13 cents. Any group of citizens could have organized similar associations and purchased in car lots and brought the price down as gasoline can be obtained in Tulsa in tank car lots for less than 10 cents a gallon."

Chicago, Aug. 14—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana announced last night it would reduce the price of gasoline 6.6 cents a gallon throughout its entire territory, effective this morning.

At the same time, L. V. Nicholas, head of the National Petroleum Marketers' Association, announced he had notified the independents to reduce prices 5 cents a gallon.

The territory affected includes, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri and part of Oklahoma. The cut already is effective in South Dakota.

"I notified independents to reduce the price 5 cents," Mr. Nicholas said. "A cut of more than 5 cents is unfair and ruinous. A cut of 6.6 cents is as much out of line one way as the present price is the other."

The new prices were characterized by the Standard Oil company of Indiana in its announcement as "far below the cost of production and distribution." The Standard Oil company said in its statement it had no wish to injure competitors but was inspired in making the reduction to meet the competition started by Governor McMaster of South Dakota and now being taken up by other state executives.

U. S. Will Help in Reparations Muddle

Washington, Aug. 14—The United States government, under the administration of President Coolidge, will stand ready to respond to any reasonable call for assistance in solving the European reparation problems so long as such assistance will not involve this government in Europe's own political quarrels, it was officially announced at the White House this afternoon.

STATE TROOPS IN CONTROL OF TULSA

CITY GOES UNDER MARTIAL LAW AT 6 O'CLOCK THIS MORNING

DRASTIC ORDERS GIVEN

Citizens Must Not Be On Streets Before 6 a. m. Or After 11 p. m. Without Permit From Officers

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 14—Tulsa awoke today under martial law, surprised and angry.

The proclamation issued late last night by Governor J. C. Walton put the city under martial law at 6 o'clock this morning. Guard units from Oklahoma City and Okmulgee arrived here early this morning and immediately took possession.

All civilians must be off the streets at 11 o'clock at night and must not appear until 6 o'clock in the morning. Only those whose work makes it necessary for them to be out during these hours will be granted permits, it was stated here this morning.

Governor Walton declared that the Tulsa police had failed in their duty to establish order, and that the sending of troops was necessary. The state executive, who is spending his vacation at Sulphur, telephoned Aldrich Blake, executive counselor, to issue the military proclamation. This was a result of the flogging of Nathan Hantman of Tulsa late last Friday night.

According to reports of the flogging, Hantman was taken to the outskirts of the city and a big whip was used over his body.

It is stated on good authority that other counties of Oklahoma may be put under martial law if the mob violences continue. It is understood that a thorough investigation will be made into the Hantman whipping and other violations of law.

This is the second time in the history of Tulsa that martial law has been invoked. Civil law was suspended in June 1921 during the race riots there.

Moral Suasion to be Used by Government

In Proposed Anthracite Coal Strike—Present Wage Scale Expires Sept. 1—New One to Be Made.

Washington, Aug. 14.—Moral suasion will be the course of the United States government in regard to the anthracite coal miners' strike which is being proposed by the union leaders. The present miners' wage scale will expire September 1 and a new provision must be made at that time.

Members of the coal commission will meet a group of miners in New York tomorrow. President Coolidge is anxious that the miners and operators get together immediately. The miners will be told that a strike is unthinkable and the government is prepared to take drastic steps to end the deadlock.

Having delivered this message the commission expects to retire from the meeting. It is believed that the two contending groups will promptly "see the light" and will get together at once.

Action on the part of the commission in calling the conference in New York is regarded in official circles as a master stroke in as much as the miners and operators will get together again without either of them taking the initiative in calling the meeting.

Secretary of Labor Davis, who returned last night from a lengthy European trip was the labor department today and immediately plunged into the coal situation.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Miller of Guilford were business visitors in Maryville today.

200 ENTOMBED IN A MINE EXPLOSION

BLAST OCCURS NEAR KEMMERER, WLO., 1,700 FT. DOWN

LITTLE HOPE FOR MEN

One Identified Body Recovered But Others Feared For In the Old Working

Kremmerer, Wyo., Aug. 14—A terrific explosion of unknown caose, shortly before noon today in the Pioneer mine of the Kemmerer Coal and Coke Company, shook the countryside for miles around and trapped more than 200 coal miners.

According to some of the officials of the company 217 men entered the mine this morning.

One body, unidentified, had been removed at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Great confusion prevails around the mouth of the shaft and fear was expressed that there would be little hope of saving any of the entrapped miners alive.

The Pioneer mine was an old working and there is little chance of getting ventilation into it.

The explosion was said to have occurred at a depth of 1,700 feet and it is thought that it was caused by a dust explosion. A cave-in near the entry to the 1,700-foot level is keeping rescue workers from entering the mine.

A United States rescue car was in Kemmerer when the explosion occurred and the crew was immediately rushed to the scene of the disaster about a mile west of the city.

Slain in Family Quarrel Wife and Mother-in-law

Husband Takes Bodies, Places Them In Packing Boxes and Takes To Vacant Lot

Medford, Mass., Aug. 14—Following the discovery of the dismembered bodies of two women in packing boxes in a vacant lot, police arrested Moonie Tseekos, 35, who they say has confessed to the twin murder.

The women, Natalie Tsekos, his wife and Mrs. Katherine Adams, his mother-in-law, were horribly hacked.

Teskos, the police said, had confessed to the killing at Franklin, N. H. then crammed the bodies into boxes and brought them here in an auto, according to the alleged confession. The arrest was brought about by the alertness of Charles A. Clark, a taxi driver, who drove Tsekos.

Less than an hour after Clark had discharged his passenger and the boxes, Tsekos was arrested as he was boarding a trolley. The story told the police was that of a family quarrel. He said that upon coming home he found his wife dressed up ready to go out with the children. She refused to talk with him and the aged mother took her daughter's part. According to Tsekos, Mrs. Adams struck him with a baseball bat.

"It was their lives or mine, they intended to kill me," was his statement.

SAVING OUR PRESIDENTS

The untimely death of President Harding, occurring at a comparatively youthful age, when he should have normally had many years of usefulness ahead of him, leads many people to ask whether the American people do not work their presidents too hard. The duties of this great office have become so tremendous and exacting, that any man who undertakes them and tries to perform them with a good degree of success, risks his health and life in the effort.

Too much is expected of the President. A horde of office seekers descend on Washington, and many of them expect to see the president personally. If he consents to this demand, a severe burden is placed on his time and attention. The president, should not, save in a few very exceptional cases, be expected to meet applicants for office. That duty ought to be taken care of by cabinet secretaries and their subordinates.

The president's time should be left entirely free to handle big questions of policy. He must save himself physically, or he will collapse under the tremendous strain that he carries.

Many people feel that the death of Mr. Harding and the physical break down of his predecessor, are an argument showing that presidents ought not to attempt long and arduous journeys about the country. But as long as the National capital is located in the eastern end of the nation, there will always be a legitimate demand that the president get out from time to time and meet the people in other sections. But a president on such trips should be given plenty of chance for rest, and not be expected to carry out a program of speech making, dining, and receptions that would break down an athlete of 20 years of age. The lives of our presidents are precious to the nation and they should not be overdriven.

Golf Pointers

In putting, is it proper to place the putter in front of the ball to aid the eye in detecting the right line to the hole?

Answered by
BOB CRUIKSHANK

The man who, in 1921, defeated Hutchinson, Sarazen, and Barnes in an invitation tournament at St. Joseph, Mo., Runner up in Pittsburgh tournament for professional golfers, 1922, being defeated only by Sarazen.

Probably this does help many players get the right line to the hole, but I never thought of it in that light. The reason why I place the putter in front of the ball (I call this the address) is to gain complete control of the club on the backswing. Personally I always make up my mind as to the line to the hole, before I take up my stance. During the address of the ball, the line can be picked up again and all the more attention can be paid to holding the body perfectly still and to the actual hitting of the ball.

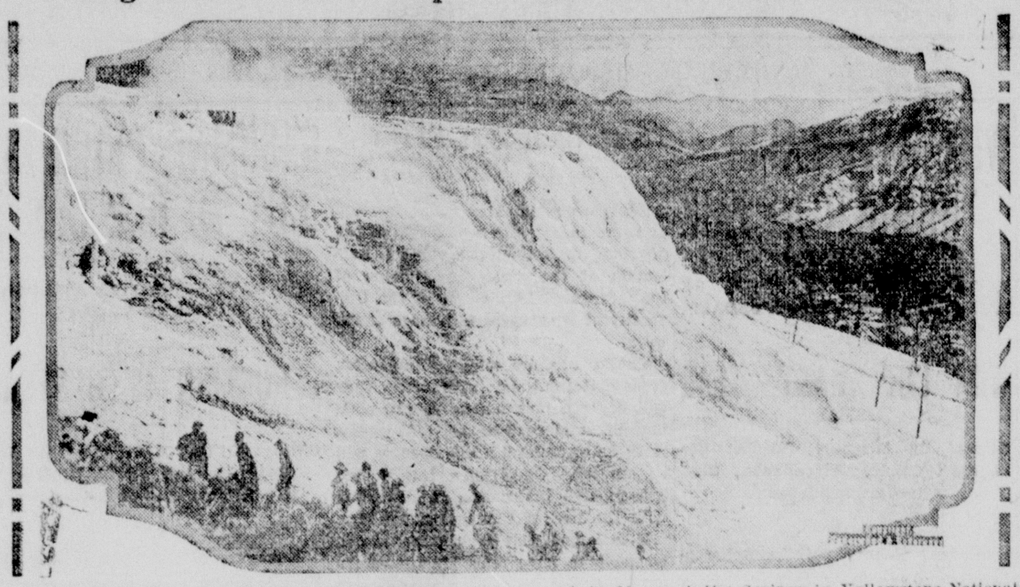
Big Lime Slide at Jupiter Terrace in Yellowstone



A cave-in, which occurred at the beautiful Jupiter terrace of the Mammoth Hot Springs in Yellowstone National park recently, was the most serious within the memory of the old residents. After softening because of an unusual flow of hot water, a chunk of the formation fell, leaving a hole approximately 20 by 40 feet. The material, consisting of white carbonate of lime, then flowed down to the highway below and into the water supply reservoir. This photograph shows the spot where the slide occurred. Note the white streak in center of the picture.

He was taken to a hospital for treatment and placed under arrest.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 14—Kansas City's "Sheba" bandit recorded her first victim last night.

"But," Mike argued, "she jammed a man-sized pistol in my ribs. What could I do?"

Kansas City, Kan., Aug. 14—Kansas City, Kan., police thwarted cupid's plans.

Tapered Asphalt Shingles

YOUR roof—do you give it the thought you should? The storms beat upon it, the wind tugs at it, the sun darts its heat upon it, fire brands may fall upon it. Surely it must be rugged and it can be beautiful. Lasting—Beautiful—Economical. Those three words sum up the qualities of Winthrop Tapered Asphalt Shingles.

They cannot rot, rust, break nor catch fire from sparks and brands

They are beautiful with the shadow line of their thick ends and with their colors—tile red, sea green and blue black—of unfading crushed slate.

They are economical because they last. No roof is more durable. Unequaled for re-roofing work for they lie close and flat. Beautify your buildings when you roof them. Use WINTHROPS.

Let us show you these shingles that are different and better. Prices are right.

Only Two Vacancies in the Rural Schools

Many Teaching On First Grade Certificates— Planning Big Rural Day

The rural schools of Nodaway County will start September 3, according to L. G. Somerville county superintendent of schools. All of the schools except Gray Grove and Jones Branch have already signed contracts with their teachers. Out of this number there will be a few drop out on account of failure of the teachers in the county examinations for first grade certificates.

There has been an unusual number of persons apply to teach on these first grade certificates according to Mr. Somerville and the grades will not be completed until the first of next week.

Mr. Somerville said that there is being some large event planned for a rural school day this year but no definite plans have been concluded as yet. Last year a large parade was held on rural day that gained publicity throughout the state and so this year something bigger and better can be expected from the Nodaway County rural schools.

Mrs. Anna Daniels and son, Harold, will go to Liberty, Mo., to spend the winter with her son, Ernest Daniels, who is the manual training teacher in the High School there.

BLAME LEGION FOR BERGDOLL ATTACK

Eberbach, Germany, Aug. 14—Following the preliminary arrangements of Lieut C. H. Griffis and the other men involved in the attempted kidnapping of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the rich American draft dodger, it was reported today that the German authorities are framing indictments for accusing the American Legion of instigating the plot.

Griffis and C. H. Nelson, chauffeur, were alleged to have been the ring leaders and promised $20,000 to get Bergdoll to Ludwigshafen and then to Paris, "dead or alive."

According to information furnished the authorities the American Legion had tried previously to get Bergdoll to take advantage of the offer brought to Europe by his mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdoll.

Mrs. Bergdoll is said to have told her son that if he would return voluntarily to the United States the seized Bergdoll fortune would be released and the prison sentence imposed upon him in wartime would be lowered.

Bergdoll did not take his mother's proposal seriously.

"I believe," he said, "The offer was inspired by the American Legion to lure me into America and I was suspicious."

A correspondet of the Frankfort Zeitung has been charged with "cooperation with certain American reporters," who had prior knowledge of the kidnapping plot.

Eberbach, Germany, Aug. 14—The German government may make presentations to the United States government in connection with the attempt to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, it was hinted here today by high government officials.

"We realize that the United States government had nothing to do with the incident," said a high government official today. "The German government will probably be compelled to take some action on account of the American Legion's move. They will not be satisfied another time if Bergdoll escapes injury."

False Police Alarm Turned in Last Night

Last night at ten o'clock a police alarm was turned in for a call for help at 129 South Fillmore street. Frank McKee, the city night watchman, answered the call of the bell which rang on the corner of Third and Main street and immediately commandeered a car and hurried to report to the place named over the telephone.

When he arrived on South Fillmore he found that there was no such an address, nor had anybody in the vicinity put in a call for assistance for the police. It was evident that some one was attempting to play a practical joke on the force.

Such an occurrance is a misdemeanor according to Harve England, chief of police, and is punishable by a heavy fine. An effort was made to locate the source of the call but this was unsuccessful.

Augustus Romasser, city councilman, and acting mayor in the absence of Mayor W. O. Garrett, said that he was not informed of the call but that if the guilty person was found who turned in the alarm the city police court would prosecute the offender.

A large crowd of people in cars followed Mr. McKee in his run to the address given him.

Cattle Steady—Hogs Higher, Sheep Steady

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 14, 1923—With seasonable receipts of cattle, 35,000 locally, made up largely of cows, heifers and stocker classes from Southwest and pasture sections, with no choice killing steers offered and fairly liberal receipts elsewhere, the cattle market closed slow, but about steady. Hogs and sheep receipts were light and prices advanced for both species.

Yesterday's Receipts

Receipts yesterday were 35,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs and 6,000 sheep, compared with 28,989 cattle, 6157 hogs and 6,145 sheep a week ago and 27,902 cattle, 8,821 hogs and 8,400 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

The beef run was made up of plain killing cattle, grass fat kinds, with no choice steers offered, that sold slow but about steady. The plainer kind moved slow at steady to weak prices. Best on sale went at $11.60. Well wintered grassers sold up to $9.75. Better grades of the stock changed hands at steady prices. Common kinds were slow to weak, cows selling from $3.25 to $7.00. Calves were about steady, selling up to $9.25.

Stockers and Feeders

With good attendance of country men, the desirable stockers and feeders sold fully steady, with inferior grades moving slow at weaker prices, ranging from $4.50 to $9.50, depending on the quality shown.

Hogs

Light hogs receipts and good shipping demand caused an advance of 15 to 25 cents on the hog market, tops selling for $7.80 bulk $7.60 to $7.70. Packing sows sold at $5.75 to $6.15, pigs were steady, ranging from $5.50 to $6.15.

Sheep

The movement of sheep locally continues light and values showed a gain of 15 to 25 cents, top western lambs going at $12.40. No choice fed lambs were offered, best natives went at $12.15. Sheep were steady, only odd bunches offered.

Horses and Mules

Receipts of horses and mules continue light, with prices unchanged. Demand for cotton mules exceed the supply.

BACK FROM STRIPPING BLUE GRASS SEED

R. R. Allen returned Tuesday from Maitland, where he was called to make sale of the crop of blue grass which he stripped the past season. For several seasons, Mr. Allen has made business of spending the seed season in Missouri, going at the time when blue grass is ready to strip, and making arrangements with farmers to strip their pastures on a percentage. After stripping and drying the seed, it is sacked in burlap sacks resembling wool sacks, awaiting the buyers, who come along from Kentucky and elsewhere, purchasing the tops for shipment to the plants especially prepared to thresh and clean the seed, and market it, this being a business all by itself. This year the buyers are paying around $1.25 a bushel of 14 lbs. for the tops ready to thresh, and northern Missouri is furnishing quite a quantity of the seed the country needs, as the bluegrass industry has been growing of recent years in the Maitland and Maryville districts. The farmer who has abundant pasture for his stock need not keep them from the field, as the stock let the mature stalks alone, and bluegrass stripping goes on just the same, so he can afford to sell the stripping rights at a low price. —Clarinda Herald.

AN ELEGY WRITTEN IN A TOURIST CAMPING GROUND

The Spokane Spokesman-Review.

The klaxon sounds the knell of parting day,
Some late arrivals through the dust clouds creep.
And three hours after we have hit the hay
The noise calms down so we can get to sleep.

Save where, from yonder pennant-clad sedan,
The radio set emits its raucous squeal,
And, underneath a nearby light, a man
Pounds until daylight on a busted wheel.

Beneath those tattered tops, those patent tents,
Where falls the dust into each sunburned pore,
Each on his folding bed of slight expense,
The rude explorers of the highway snore.

Let not ambition mock their creaky cars,
Their khaki clothes, of vintages obscure,
Nor grandeur view, with hauteur like a czar's,
The short and simple flivvers of the poor.

The boast of shiny paint, the pomp of power,
And all that charms the motoristic top,
Await alike the inevitable hour—
The paths of touring lead but to the shop.

Can streamline hood or sliver-plated hubs
Back to its mansion call the missing spark?
Can plush upholstery foil the clumsy dubs
Who bang into your fenders in the dark?

* * *

Full many a boob of purest ray serene
Succumbs each summer to the touring itch;
Full many a car is doomed to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness in a western ditch.

John Schumacher left last night for a two weeks vacation in the north. Mr. Schumacher's first stop will be Green Bay, Wis.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Worcester, Mass. — "I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends, and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial, as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness." — Mrs. DELIA HICKEY, 4 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass.

New Hog Feed Boon to Stockmen Here

O. E. Bradley of Elmo Reports Good Business For Mineral Mixture—Is Proper Balance For Rations

O. E. Bradley of Elmo was in Maryville today delivering some of his mineral mixture for hogs to farmers near here. Mr. Bradley reports a good business for his mixture despite the low price of hogs. He says that the majority of farmers realize that a hogs rations must be properly balanced, in order to get the best feeding and growing results; and that it does not take a strong medical mixture but a good mineral mixture to get these results that when the margin is close between the price of corn and hogs, then they need a balanced ration more than when corn is low as compared to hogs.

He reports the sale of more than 60,000 pounds of this mineral to Nodaway and Atchison County stockmen since Jan. 15, 1923, and that he finds 95 per cent to 100 per cent of his customers are well pleased with the product and are calling for more.

It is his intention to put on the market a variety of mixed hay and grain feeds, within the next few weeks: such as chick feeds, pig meals, brood sow rations, dairy cattle and fat cattle rations.

These feeds will all be made by grinding hay and grains that are grown in the county, such as alfalfa hay, whole snapped corn, corn fodder, oats, corn, rye, barley and wheat.

Mr. Bradley says that the farmers, as a whole, are paying too much freight and overhead expense shipping their feed away to have it ground and then returned to them at a higher price.

If the business justifies he will locate a factory in the county that will furnish a market for Nodaway County's surplus farm products.

Mrs. C. C. Graves, Successful In Occupational Therapy Treatment

Great progress has been made in the occupational therapy department of the St. Joseph State Hospital, now under the direction of Mrs. C. C. Graves, formerly of Maryville, according to a recent story in the St. Joseph News-Press. Mr. Graves is now steward at the hospital. The article states that during the year the work has been in progress that the improvement has been noticeable, not only in the class of work, but the patients engaged in it, display a marked improvement both physically and mentally. A number have entirely recovered and have been discharged from the institution. The following is portion of the article:

The object of the department is to give the patients some form of work to occupy them which will not tire them, but will keep their minds on the things they are attempting to do. The full value and result of this is not yet known, as it has not yet been developed to the high stage that it is expected to reach, but enough has been accomplished to demonstrate the wisdom of it, the hospital authorities say. This plan was adopted by the federal government in treating wounded soldiers in federal hospitals, and has become a prescribed form of treatment.

The result of a year's work at the state hospital here has benefited hundreds of patients, and nearly 10 per cent of those engaged in it have recovered from their illness and been paroled from the institution, members of the hospital staff say. The articles made by the patients are sold to the public at a small advance above the cost of materials, and the profits derived from such sales are used in paying the salaries of instructors, so the department is nearly self supporting.

Visitors are Welcome

It is announced by the hospital authorities that the public may visit the department and view the work as it is being done by the patients, and have the privilege of purchasing any of the articles.

The work is divided into seven departments as follows: Kindergarten, basket, toy and art, rug, fancy work, sewing and quilt and pillow, and each department is under the supervision of competent instructors. The entire work is directed by Mrs. C. C. Graves, wife of the steward of the hospital.

The kindergarten department is the first step toward engaging in the work of the department and the patients are said to eagerly look forward to the time when they will be allowed to engage in the actual work. When the patients are admitted to the kindergarten they are assigned to easy tasks, which consist mostly of sorting materials and preparing them for the other department. After a patient has made progress in this line he or she is advanced to one of the sections where manufacturing is done.

To a visitor to the work rooms they have the appearance of an industrial school. The instructors are busy teaching the patients. In some few instances patients are reluctant to work, especially when they are transferred to a new department. The policy of the attendants in such cases is not to urge them, but to have them sit unoccupied near others who are working. Usually after two or three days of idleness the patient asks to be allowed to work.

Articles Made by the Men

The men are placed in the basket and toy sections. In the basket section the patients make lamps, stables, chairs, baskets, trays, shades and stands of all varieties. More than 2,000 articles have been made in this section since the start and all these are of excellent workmanship. Orville Milbourn is the instructor in the men's section. He is a veteran of the World War and served on the Mexican border with the 4th regiment, and in France with the 139th infantry. At present sixteen patients are engaged in the section and within the last year six have been discharged as cured.

The toy department does all the wood work for the other sections and also manufactures lamps, picture frames, bird houses and repairs the furniture in the institution. Fifteen men patients are employed and five have been discharged within a year. The department does the art work and only recently the artist was pronounced cured and left to take a position as art director with a circus. The department has manufactured more than 1,000 articles.

Nine looms are used in making rugs and about twenty patients are engaged. Within the last year four patients have been discharged. Some of the patterns of rugs are: Governor's garden, orange peel, wheel of time, double snowball, Irish chains, doors and windows, double towknot, dog tracks, pine cone bloom and Swedish. Rugs have been sold to persons in many parts of the United States and numerous calls have been made for special rugs.

For the women there are also departments for sewing, making baby and women's dresses, fancy work, quilting, burlap rugs, and flowers. An exhibit of this work will be sent to Sedalia this week to be exhibited at the State Fair.

Big In Size and Service

THE greatest achievements throughout the ages have been those discoveries and inventions which have made it possible for men to do the work of the world better and at the same time gain the leisure needed to develop their own powers.

No single class of achievements has done more to overcome the obstacles which confronted mankind in his climb toward better things than those which are grouped about the discovery of petroleum. From this source he first secured cheap and abundant light, lubricants and power.

The discovery of kerosene gave him a clear, dependable light which made systematic night study possible.

The development of unnumbered lubricants made the operation of the countless machines which serve the world practical.

The refining of gasoline made the internal combustion automotive engine practicable.

In the development of these helps, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a leader.

For years it has maintained, at its refineries, research laboratories and testing stations where men were constantly at work finding new uses for petroleum, and as the discoveries have been proved of practical worth they have been given to the world.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has done more than develop a large number of products and manufacture them in quantities. It has priced them at reasonable figures and has organized a comprehensive system of distribution which makes it possible for any man in the ten Middle Western States served by the Company to get what he wants quickly and easily.

Of these achievements the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is justly proud—particularly so, as the public has paid no premium for the enjoyment of these comforts.

In contradistinction, every additional product that this Company is able to take from petroleum bears its just proportion of the total manufacturing expense and tends to keep down the manufacturing cost and the selling price of all petroleum products.

Thus do the activities of a big organization, founded and operated on the principles of equity, fairness and justice, accrue to the benefits of the public for the common good.
